One year ago the 4th of this month, Wilson became President of the United States. He has accomplished more for the common people in this, the first year of his administration, than has been accomplished by any of his predecessors during their entire term, since the Civil War. The Dallas News, in its issue of March the 4th, has the following:

This is the birthday of the Wilson Administration. It is one year old. If it does not get ten or twelve million congratulatory telegrams, it will signify nothing more than that we have not, as a people, adopted this means of expressing appreciation of public servants who prove themselves faithful and wise. The people are not insensible of its marvelous achievements. Marvelous is the fit word, inasmuch as, in that it falls short of measuring the work it has done, and done so admirably. Whether in point of their number or in that of the magnitude of the tasks it has accomplished, it has made a record of which our history affords no precedent. Had it done only half so much in circumstances providentially contrived to facilitate its efforts, it would have had reason to be proud and the country equal reason to be grateful. But it has wrought in legislative and administrative ways amid the distractions, perplexities and anxieties made by an inherited situation that has every day presented the possibilities of war. It has fulfilled its promises, fulfilled them to a degree of fidelity which has no less amazed its political friends than it has dismayed its political adversaries. It has inspired the Democratic party with a sense of courage and power it did not previously suspect itself of possessing, and it has reduced the opponents of that party to the necessity of indulging in a criticism that is merely fault-finding. It has caused economic changes so radical as to be little short of revolutionary, and yet with an understanding and tolerance to preclude the fear that makes panics. And above all, it has exalted a higher standard of patriotic statesmanship, elevated the Nation's ideals and instilled into its citizens more exalted aspirations. The Wilson Administration has made this a better Nation, its citizens a finer people.

If the Wilson Administration does not today get ten or twelve million congratulatory telegrams it may nevertheless be sure that it enjoys the confidence of the American people to a degree in which no other Administration has enjoyed it within a time of which we of today have any experience.

Fragrant as the new blown rose. In the Orient, where the best tea is grown, the gardens yield two and sometimes three crops or pickings from the same plant. The first picking is in May. The young leaves are tenderest, full of fragrance and strength. The tea which is brewed from them is clear and pure. The later pickings are heavier and have not the natural sweetness of the first crop which makes tea one of the most delicious of beverages. You can always get the early May picking of Orient Tea if you buy the sanitary packages of

An Oil City, Wilson, Town Lots Offered at Auction

A town lot proposition that is attracting far more than the usual attention, is that at Wilson, the oil center at the western terminus of the Oklahoma, New Mexico & Pacific Railroad (Ringling Road).

Wilson has had a wonderful growth, being now only sixty days old but having a population of 1500. The building of this new railroad westward and the discovery and rapid development of the Wilson-Healdton oil field together with inexhaustible supplies of natural gas, have caused Wilson to go forward at a surprising rate.

The town lots sale, 600 lots being on the market, will take place on March 5, 6 and 7 (three days) with Col. John B. Queen of Perry as auctioneer.

Wilson is in the western portion of Carter County, near where the counties of Carter, Jefferson and Stephens join, and in the center of a wonderfully productive agricultural and live stock country. There are untouched riches, in fact, all around and under Wilson.

The natural gas possibilities are beyond comprehension. Cheap natural gas means factories and allied industries, and the big oil field means refineries, and Wilson is bound to win. Nothing can prevent it.

The same conditions that made Tulsa, Beaumont and Wichita Falls are Wilson's and even more so for Wilson has no opposition. It is the only Wilson-Healdton oil town.

All the 600 lots are to be sold at the purchaser's own price, absolutely none to be reserved. The conditions are 30 per cent down and the remainder in 10 per cent monthly payments.

The sale pavilion will be located on the lots, and rain or shine the sale will be held.

Free every day, also, will be given away two choice residence lots, and each person attending the sale will have an opportunity to draw these. Tickets will be given each morning to all comers and the lucky number gets the lots.

This is an opportunity to get a home or a business site in the fastest growing city in the southwest, and one that is bound to become an important industrial and agricultural center. The soil around Wilson grows a bale of cotton to the acre and the farms are teeming with cattle and hogs.

This is a business opportunity, of the brand that pays. For these three days, March 5, 6 and 7, the Oklahoma & Pacific Railway (Ringling Road) will sell a round trip ticket for one fare.

Jake L. Hamon is the owner of the townsite, Frank L. Ketch is sales manager and John B. Queen, auctioneer.

Really Good Manners. What then are good manners? Simply a fine and always thoughtful consideration for the feelings and comfort of others; polite and kindly address to "inferiors" as to equals or "superiors;" graciousness, which is also grace, under all circumstances; and with women especially, no matter whether in drawing room or office, that "low, soft voice," which Shakespeare declares to be "an excellent thing in women."
